Farm Information

Country: El Salvador
Region: Cantón Los Arenales, Sonsonate
Altitude: 1.675 masl
Farm: Finca Las Nubes

Considered one of the best farms in El Salvador, Finca Las Nubes is located in the base of Santa Ana Volcano, which in 2006 had an eruption. The eruption threw a great amount of ashes that were transformed into natural fertilizer. The ashes are highly acid and combined with any other fertilizer might create an intoxication to the plant and kill it. Since the eruption 8 years ago, the farm is being worked and certified 100% organic. Also for its social and environmental conditions it's been certified as Rainforest.
